Chapter Chairman. Absent from this photo is Mrs. Dolly Chick of Norway who will be the Southern Oxford County Campaign Director. Other town chairmen and campaign workers will be announced at a later date.

McMILLIN ENTERTAIN SENIOR CITIZENS

On Thursday evening of last week Mr. and Mrs. Frederick McMillin gave the Senior Citizens a guided bus tour around all Bethel Streets and surrounding areas. The Christmas lights on stores and houses and decorated properties were handsome under the winter moon. The bus was warm and cheerful, the guests were as noisy and happy as the school children who are the daily passengers and the hosts were patient and courteous. The kind gesture gave the Senior Citizens a delightful outing and their gratitude is expressed to Mr. and Mrs. "Mush" and wish them a Happy New Year with God's Blessings.

D. A. R. STUDENT AT ANDOVER HIGH SCHOOL ANNOUNCED

Principal Frank Bean, Andover High School, SAD #44, has announced that Miss Paula Poor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archer Poor, Jr., has been selected as D. A. R. Representative of Andover High.

Miss Poor held the office of president of her class her Freshman and Sophomore years. For the past two years she has held the office of secretary-treasurer of the Student Council. During her Junior year she was elected to the National Honor Society and during her senior year acted as vice president and Historian.

ENGINEERS SUBMIT PRELIMINARY PLANS FOR BETHEL POLLUTION CONTROL PLANT

The Bethel Board of Selectmen have received and reviewed a preliminary design report on pollution control facilities for the town. The report was prepared by the Edward C. Jordan Co., Inc., Civil and Sanitary Engineers, of Portland, under a planning grant by the Maine Water and Air Environmental Improvement Commission and a planning advance from the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The report prepared by the Jordan Company recommends certain improvements and extensions to the existing sewerage and drainage systems, together with an intercepting sewer system and pollution control plant. The installation of the pollution control plant will be required to meet Water Quality Standards, that were established for the Androscoggin River in the 1967 Maine Legislature. The plant recommended by the engineers will be of the aerated pond modification of the activated sludge process, with a tentative location adjacent to the railroad easterly of Route 26.

The engineers have estimated the project cost of the required initial construction, including related improvements to the existing system and the pollution control facilities, to be about $2,000,000. The Selectmen note, however, that significant amounts of State and Federal Aid will, in all likelihood, be applicable to the proposed project. Depending on the various and programs which may be applicable, it is anticipated that the local cost of the system will range from about $150,000 to $200,000.

The Selectmen noted that a project of this type has been anticipated by the Town for several years. Preparatory to undertaking this project, a bill was passed at the last legislature creating the Bethel Sewer District subject to affirmative vote by the Town. Upon review of the Jordan report the Selectmen have concluded that Sewer District formation is the most desirable method of administration for this project and believe that District formation should be put to referendum vote as prescribed in the recent legislation. If the District is affirmed at the referendum, a board of five trustees would be appointed to issue bonds and administer construction. The revenue required to operate the District would be gained by service charges to those benefiting from the system.

Plans will have to be made to conduct the referendum vote at a special town meeting. Prior to the referendum it is planned to have at least one public information meeting to provide an opportunity for general discussion of the project. The Selectmen also noted that several copies of the Jordan Company Report are on file in the Town Office and are available for review by any who are interested.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The town manager's office will be open Saturday morning from 9 to 12 for the convenience of those who wish to pay their taxes before the Dec. 31 deadline.

Dogs over four months old Dec. 31st, must be licensed. This is no doubt one of the most difficult responsibilities the most of us have in the year. No one receives a bill for a dog tax therefore it is very easy to overlook.

Mr. Hunter of the Jordan Company, the firm that is doing the engineering for the town in preparation for a new sewage disposal system was present at a meeting with the Selectmen, Dec. 20. After considerable discussion over the merits of the different types of disposal plants, it was evident the only one practical for Bethel was an aerated pond combined with a sludge system. There are a limited number of books at the Town Office describing the different plants for those interested. These books also estimate the cost of each.

There must be a special town meeting to see if the town wishes to administer the system as a municipal function or as a sewer district.

ANDROSCOGGIN RIVER RESEARCH BULLETIN NOW AVAILABLE

The Androscoggin River, long the topic of much public concern, is the subject of a new fisheries research bulletin from the Maine Fish and Game Dept. The 52-page booklet, by Regional Fishery Biologist Stuart DeRoche of Gorham, covers the history of man's mismanagement of the river, an analysis of the possibilities of the Androscoggin, and some recommendations for the future.

DeRoche examines the whole drainage—the river and its tributaries—dam by dam through both Maine and New Hampshire. He looks at the obstructions to fish passage and at the serious pollution problems.

This bulletin is available from the Fish and Game Dept. in Augusta at a price of 25 cents per copy.

WRONG-WAY SIGNS BEING ERASED BY STATE

Highway Commission. Erase motorist going against traffic on one-way roadways in Maine are to be reminded of one hazardous situation by a new warning sign reading WRONG WAY IN WHITE LETTERS on a red background.

The new signs are now being installed throughout the state in addition to the black and white warning sign. DO NOT ENTER already in effect.

The additional warning sign, said Roger Moller, the State Highway Commission's planning and traffic engineer, is part of the Commission's continuing effort to provide improved highway signing for the safety of the traveling public.

There has been no exceptional problem in Maine with wrong-way traffic movements and Maine Highway Commission officials. However, in the interests of safety the new sign is being added as a supplemental message to the existing warning sign in locations where there is any

THE NEW SIGNS

The new signs will be erected at the corner of the Interstate system in Maine where there has been any situation of wrong-way movements. They will also be placed on highways where there is a transition from four lanes to two, and at locations where there is any possibility of confusion between the wrong-way and the correct lanes of traffic.

The supplemental warning signs are to be used in locations where there is any possibility of confusion between the wrong-way and the correct lanes of traffic.

5.7% MORE FRESHMEN
ADMITTED THIS FALL
AT U. OF M., ORONO

Colleges all over the United States this fall reflected a "surprising" increase in the number of freshmen admitted for full time study and the University of Maine at its Orono campus went along with the unusual national trend.

A survey of freshmen admitted to 943 accredited colleges this fall showed an increase of 2.3
 per cent over the previous year.
 At the Orono campus of the University of Maine figures reveal that the number of freshmen admitted this fall increased by 5.7% over the number admitted in 1966.

The national figures were recorded in a survey made by Dr.
 Garland G. Parker, University of Cincinnati vice provost for admissions and records and a national authority in the field of college enrollment and were compiled for the magazine,
 School and Society.

The fact that the freshmen classes throughout the country showed an increase was listed by Dr. Parker as "surprising" in view of the "impact of Selective Service and the Vietnam conflict, the internal strife, competition of non-collegiate training programs, and the fact there were some 5000 fewer 18-year-olds this year than last."

Dr. Parker added that, "with an estimated rise of only 5000
 in the same age group in 1968,
 a large freshmen gain is unlikely next year."

"Thereafter, the population data suggests steady increases through 1970," he added.
 Compilations were obtained from some 1132 accredited universities and colleges in the U.
 S. and Puerto Rico in Dr. Parker's latest survey.

The University of Maine, at its Orono campus, approximated national trends in almost all categories except in the number of freshmen admitted to the college of Technology.

National survey figures showed engineering freshmen resuming an upward trend in 1967 with a modest gain of 1.2 percent over 1966. At Orono engineering freshmen showed a 10% decline over 1966 with 243 freshmen in the college of Technology in the fall of 1967 compared to 270 in the fall of 1966. Enrollment continued in the college of Technology was an increase.

National figures had shown a decline of engineering freshmen in 1966 but the University of Maine had shown an increase.

Overall, the U. of M. showed a 9.0 percent increase in total enrollment, compared to the national average of 7.0 percent. This showed that 41 percent of its student body of 1967 consisted of women, compared to a national average of 39.7 percent, and showed that 49 percent of the freshmen class are women, compared

COMMENT

The Land of Milk and Honey
... and Giants!

This is the time of year when many make resolutions regarding their personal conduct during the ensuing year. Among these resolutions should be a vow to forego the urge of having government, at any level, provide for you what you could better provide for yourself. Government funds perhaps can be used to provide services that an individual or group of individuals are unable to provide for themselves, but they should not be used to provide what, in many instances, they will not provide for themselves.

Public tax money should be used only to provide services and facilities where government has a legitimate obligation.

In these days of the rising cost of education, as well as other services local governments are expected to provide, a long, careful scrutiny of public expenditures is needed. The days of mutual back-scratching, "white collar welfare" should be numbered.

Generally the citizens desire good educational facilities for their children, well cared-for public highways, adequate public safety protection, assistance for the less fortunate, and other services furnished by the several levels of government.

All these services require financing and the only means that government at all levels have to raise funds to meet their obligations is through taxation. Whether the funds used are raised locally through property taxes, or obtained through "free" State and Federal programs the individual pays for it, through sales tax, income tax, or other taxes, ad infinitum.

So if the public wants to live in the proverbial "land of milk and honey" they will have to accept the fact that tribute must be paid to the "giant" in the form of taxes.

to the national figure of 44 percent.

Largest increase among entering freshmen, both nationally and at the U. of M., was in the College of Business Administration. At Orono this fall there were a total of 91 freshmen admitted in the College of Business Administration compared to 82 last year, an increase of 9.9 percent. Nationally the increase among business administration students is 4.9 per cent.

Increases were noted for freshmen in the Colleges of Education, Life Sciences and Agriculture and Arts and Sciences at the U. of M. This year's freshman class at Orono totaled 1639, compared to 1504 last year.

Total enrollment at Orono increased from 5853 in 1966 to 6409 this fall and the total number of women students at Orono increased from 2304 in 1966 to 2637 this fall.

Dr. Parker's survey also revealed that students attending large public universities comprise 59.7 per cent of those attending all surveyed schools full-time
 "striking evidence of the high importance of large-scale academic enterprise in our era."

The tally for large private universities indicated an increase in registrants of 3.3 per cent, lower than the gains in previous years.
 This group accounts for 13.1 per cent of all full-time students in comparable schools, according to the survey.

20 SECONDS WITH THE NAZARENE

"Ever note how each New Year the world gets engrossed
 In compiling their new resolutions,
 When they have no thought of maintaining them whole
 Than of starting a world revolution?
 Well, my friend, it's tradition, but let me implore
 That, whatever you do, don't forsake it,
 For you might make a good one, by error some year,
 And then learn you'd forgotten to break it!"

NEW LOAN AVAILABLE
FOR LOW INCOME FAMILIES

Daniel E. McAllister, Assistant County Supervisor of the local Farmers Home Administration, South Paris, has announced that there is a new loan available to low income families. This loan is called a 502 Special Rural Housing loan and is designed to help many families where their regular type loan could not.

This loan may be used to repair present dwellings or to complete unfinished ones. Families desiring to put in a bathroom or heating system only may fall under this new authority.

In order to be eligible an applicant must be of legal age, have character and ability to repay the loan. They must also hold title to the property they wish to improve.

Applicants may borrow up to $3,500 at five per cent interest for 33 years or the life of the security.

Anyone interested in this type of loan should contact Mr. Mc-Allister at his office in the Masonic Building, Market Square, South Paris.

HARRY, ESTHER & LINDA DUNN

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Cor. —

This was a very busy week with late bus mornings, because of ice and trouble, and rehearsals for our Christmas program which we presented on Wednesday evening to a full house. There were 75 of us there to celebrate our last Christmas together. Our little program was a success as each child wished to do his part well and to please. Just before the beautiful little tree, brought to us by the Kuvajas from Richardson Hollow, released its exchange of gifts, there was a moment of thoughtfulness as "Our Schoolhouse Spoke".

I am but a little schoolhouse. That sits here on a hill. After this Christmas I shall be lonesome and still.

One hundred and eight years with this season so gay I have seen laughter and joy And children at play.

The spring time of my life has departed

My usefulness has ended at last All thoughts were once of the future

The coming years, will be only of the past

I have given instructions and knowledge

I have given of nature and art Now let this evening be merry

Send out joy from the heart I hope there will oft be memories

Not only of knowledge but of joy

The warm laughter of a little girl Or the smile of a little boy.

Progress stands aside for no one So I'll step aside this Yuletide

And open to these pupils A bigger and better school.

Now my walls echo, "Farewell Folks"

As on this parting night I thank you so much for coming

And may all your Christmases be bright.

Then the fun long anticipated began.

Looking the audience over I saw nineteen former pupils, some with children taking part in the program, others with their future a wide open road.

An overheard conversation stating "I hope the coming year will be a better one" made me think of an old poem we once learned in school saying something about marking our calendar in red for the good days and in black the bad. At the end of the year the bright color predominated over the dark. Maybe we should purchase a new 1968 calendar and mark our days in the same way. I hope yours will have many red figures in a Happy New Year.

During the strong wind on Tuesday there were three flocks of gulls which seemed to be driven by the wind over the schoolhouse. We were fascinated by first one then another torn from its group and buffeted by the wind until it was alone for a while as helpless as a piece of paper.

Thursday did seem like April and more so when a flock of crows began to call.

Ann and David Holt went by bus to Bangor on Friday to visit with their brother, Robert. All returned on Saturday evening for the holidays at home. Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Chase and Rena Bacon, West Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Morgan and Mrs. Lucy Barrows also planned to attend.

On Thursday evening Doris Hayes and Colista Morgan attended a Christmas supper at Dorothy Ross's at West Paris. There was an exchange of gifts and a social evening with Agnes Gray, Avis Stellhorn, Louvie Coffin, Lyndell Farr, Doris Slattery, and Mrs. Dunning.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hayes held a gathering on Sunday, the 24th, with their children and families and her people from Portland.

Mrs. Clayton Heath Jr., Norway, called on her mother, Mrs. Tolvo Tammlander on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hakala of Limestone, and Raymond Hakala,

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bennett and Heidi, Bethel, were at Roy Bennett's, Monday.

for Christmas and were a real artistic job. It is really unbelievable that a person could do such perfect work with a little ink.

A program was presented by the grades. Several Christmas carols were sung by all. The fourth grade put on a play "Santa Claus". This play was planned by the children themselves and done well. Members of the 4th Grade sang "The Twelve Days of Christmas" to close the program.

After refreshments were served the committee took the gifts off the tree. What a happy time for our children.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Davis attended Grange meeting at Bryant Pond, Monday night, Dec. 18. This was rather a bad evening because of the ice-slicked roads. Merrifield Hill was glare, a rather dangerous situation. Many were tied up in the hill as there was not a bit of sand on it.

Callers of Mr. and Mrs. Guyson Davis Sunday were Mrs. Martha Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilkins and girl, Dryden, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Greenleaf and boy.

Another year is slipping away fast. I have just enough time to wish you all a very Happy New Year. May peace reign over the world before 1968 runs out.

Maine Girl Wins Scholarship With 4-H Photography Project

Jane Hersey

A $500 scholarship has been awarded to Jane Hersey, 17, of Rumford Center, one of Maine's delegates to the National 4-H Club Congress just concluded in Chicago.

Miss Hersey was one of four national winners in the 4-H Photography program sponsored by Eastman Kodak Company. She was the only girl.

Miss Hersey had previously been named a 1967 state award winner. Her record was judged along with 2,100 others for the national honors by the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises 4-H Club work. The judging was done at the National 4-H Service Committee headquarters in Chicago shortly before the congress.

During the congress a total of 233 national 4-H award winners was announced. They represented 44 states and Puerto Rico.

Miss Hersey develops, prints, makes enlargements and spoils film in her dark room. In three years she has taken, printed and enlarged hundreds of prints.

Her enlargements of the school's winter carnival queen have been used on posters. Two of her enlargements won state blue ribbons.

Miss Hersey serves as photographer for the school paper and photography editor of the yearbook. A high school senior, she plans to use her photographic talent to help pay her way through college as did her father, Dr. Charles W. Hersey, D.V.M.

The six-year 4-H'er uses a Taron, a Japanese-made camera, and a Mecalite 110 strobe for flash subjects. She is experimenting with portraiture and also with filters.

CARBON MONOXIDE AND POOR VISIBILITY ARE WINTER DRIVING HAZARDS

What you can't see and can't smell may kill you.

That's the warning issued by Capt. Robert L. McKenney, Director of the Maine State Police Traffic Division Sunday about the winter driving hazards represented by accidental carbon monoxide poisoning and frost-covered windshields.

"Many motorists do not realize," said McKenney, "that driving a motor vehicle with just a peephole through a thick coating of frost is in violation of the law." Those who make a practice of it are subject to prosecution he pointed out.

"Far more serious," he added, "are the possible consequences of driving with obstructed vision. It's downright dangerous, not only for the motorist involved but anyone around him."

McKenney advised motorists to develop the habit of either clearing frosty windshields with a scraper or taking the time to allow their vehicle's defrosters to do the job before starting out on the highway.

McKenney described carbon monoxide as a killer with no respect for its victims. "It can strike anybody any time," he emphasized. "A good policy any motorist can follow is to drive with at least one window open a small margin during winter months as protection against the possibility of the odorless gas claiming a life or lives through a faulty exhaust system."

The best habit for motorists to adopt is to have the exhaust systems checked regularly for possible leaks, McKenney added.
